TEMPLE DEGREE CONFERRED UPON PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT BY DR. BEURY

On February 22 the President of the United States, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, received a Doctor of Jurisprudence Degree from Temple University at a postponed Founder's Day Celebration. Brother Charles E. Beury, President of the University, conferred the degree, and Brother William Caldwell, professor of Chemistry, draped the academic mantle over the President's neck. Both President Beury and Dr. Caldwell are faculty members of Epsilon Alpha.

Dignitaries of the Federal, State, and City governments were present. Governor George H. Earle of Pennsylvania and Dr. Beury greeted the President and Mrs. Roosevelt at the railroad station. The party was escorted to the University by the First City Troop in a blaze of glory. The colorful uniforms of the historic troop added to the brilliance of the occasion, which was witnessed by the public.

Upon arrival at the University, the President was honored by a citizens' reception committee headed by S. Davis Wilson, Mayor of Philadelphia, father of Brother Woodrow Wilson '35. The President then greeted about 2,500 students who assembled in the Great Court, since it was only possible for a selected few of the student body to gain admission to the auditorium.

Approximately three thousand persons greeted the President in the auditorium. He and Mrs. Roosevelt occupied seats in the centre of the stage with Dr. Beury and Governor Earle.

Governor Earle presented the degree to the President, and it was conferred by Dr. Beury. After receiving his insignia the President addressed the audience in the auditorium, a student audience by a public address system and the entire country via a nation-wide radio hook-up.

During his address the President lauded Temple as a democratic institution for people in all stations of life, and was quite proud that he was now an alumnus of such a University.

After the address, the President departed for Cambridge, Massachusetts; and Mrs. Roosevelt proceeded to New York. This was quite a disappointment to the many prominent persons who awaited Mrs. Roosevelt for the dedication of the new Thomas D. Sullivan Memorial Library, at which she was scheduled to speak and to participate in a luncheon where she was to be guest of honor, but Mrs. Roosevelt explained that she had to attend the funeral of a friend.

However, the dedication went on in the presence of Governor Earle, Dr. Beury and Mark Sullivan, columist and aûthor. Mark Sullivan is a brother of the late Thomas B. Sullivan for whom the library is named and whose gift of $278,000 helped finance its construction. A PWA loan of $550,000 was also necessary.

The new library is the most recent milestone in the ten years of progress under the guidance of President Beury. It is in the English collegiate Gothic style of architecture, and designed by William Lee, University architect. This three-story building contains a labyrinth of rooms ranging from regular library rooms to class rooms. The general reading and reference room is spacious, with a 60-foot Gothic arched ceiling supported by massive oak beams. Sunlight floods into the room through twelve stained glass windows which depict the life of Dr. Russell H. Conwell.

The browsing room is the most luxurious and most appealing to the aesthetic soul, and some Epsilonians are finding it to be a fine setting for a tete-a-tete with their loves both literary and real.

There are eight classrooms which seat a total of 261 students. They have been designed for the students' well-being. The rooms are light and airy; specially constructed window glass has been used which prevents sun glare, and the paint is pleasing to the eyes.

An unusual air-conditioning system has been installed which consists of two distinct systems, one for the reading rooms and the other for the book stacks. The latter system is designed especially to preserve the condition of the books.

Up to the present time the library has 70,000 books while space for 200,000 is provided. The difference is to be contributed by faculty, students, and friends of the University.

Twelfth Arch Convocation Delegates at Allentown, Pennsylvania

TWELFTH CONVOCATION BRIGHTENS T. U. O. CALENDAR

A brighter future for fraternities in general and T. U. O. in particular epitomizes the picture carried away by the delegates and visitors to the recent Twelfth Arch Convocation of Theta Upsilon Omega.

Some eighty delegates, officers, and visitors gathered in Allentown, Pennsylvania, for this meeting on December 28 and 29 as guests of the Delta Beta Chapter at Muhlenberg College. Homer C. Knauss, Master of the Delta Beta Associate Chapter, welcomed the convocation at the opening session in the chapter house on the morning of the 28th. Arch Master McGinness after his reply to this address followed with a brief review of the progress of the fraternity in the past year and an outline of the problems to be faced in the near future.

An announcement that Arch Councilor Robert F. Dirkes, after seven years of service on the Arch Council, was not a candidate for reëlection, brought a resolution expressing thanks for his splendid service to the fraternity. This was passed by a unanimous vote.

Reports

Of the reports of the officers, the most significant was that of the Executive Secretary who related that every chapter in the fraternity was in a healthy condition from the standpoint of both fealty to its ideals and its material functioning. Every chapter had strengthened its financial condition during the past year. In that period the Executive Secretary had visited every chapter at least once and half of them two or more times.

Professor Fred K. Fleagle of Davidson College, chairman of the Scholarship Committee, reported that though All-Men's averages are rising, the scholarship among fraternity men shows a marked falling off from 1933-34 to 1934-35. The chapters of Theta Upsilon Omega unfortunately followed this trend. Among the chapters which distinguished themselves with exceptionally high averages were, Gamma Alpha at Stevens Institute of Technology, Eta Alpha at the George Washington University, and Theta Alpha at the University of New Hampshire. The chairman concluded with the recommendation:

"I would recommend the continuation of the scholarship plaques, also the Chapter Advisers as members of the Committee on Scholarship. I would also recommend the stressing of scholarship qualifications as among the most desirable characteristics to be looked for in rushing new members, and a continued emphasis on the part of all alumni on the scholastic side of fraternity life".

The reports of the delegates were this year particularly inspiring. As delegate after delegate arose to give his account, a picture of unity of purpose and fundamental soundness developed. And this is discounting the window dressing which these reports habitually contain.

For the first time in several years, every active chapter of the fraternity was represented at the Convocation. Beta Alpha at Worcester Polytechnic Institute had seven men there, Epsilon Alpha at Temple University also had seven, and Gamma Alpha at Stevens Institute of Technology was represented by six men. Six associate chapters sent delegates and four clubs were represented.

Liaison

Among the new business of the convocation were two resolutions both designed to give the chapters a greater national consciousness and improve their understanding of the problems of the national fraternity and of each other. One provided that the Arch Council arrange to send monthly communications from October to May to each active chapter on appropriate subjects. The other provided that each active chapter on or before January 15, April 15, and November 15 of each year send a communication to each of the other active chapters concerning its activities and other news of general fraternity interest. This is an outgrowth of the work of the liaison committee and an exhortation by one of the proponents of this measure appears elsewhere in this issue.

Pleasants Elected Arch Councilor

Carl A. Cassone, chairman of the nominations committee, after a year of diligent effort to select the best candidates, placed before the convocation the names of two members, both eminently qualified for the office of Arch Councilor. On the balloting which followed, Samuel A. Pleasants of New York City was declared the winner.

Delta Beta Plays Host

While not of vital importance to the fraternity at large, the physical comforts provided by a convocation host mean much to the delegates and visitors. The arrangements made by Delta Beta chapter for housing, feeding, and entertaining the guests excelled anything experienced in our many years of convocation attendance.

As each man arrived and registered he received a program which covered all of his activities from Saturday morning to

Sunday night. At the same time he received his bunk assignment and a roster of committee chairmen ready to provide for every want.

Instantly the visitor became aware that here was order, the result of careful planning and endless hours of toil in preparation. The king-pin of the whole affair was Carl A. Cassone. His driving energy was largely responsible for the clock-like precision with which all of the local arrangements were carried out. In this he was supported by the entire active chapter membership and pledges. Each man had his appointed task and to the everlasting credit of Delta Beta chapter, he performed it well.

Sleeping arrangements were provided at the chapter house and the nearby Theta Kappa Nu fraternity house. All of the meals were served at the chapter house. This was a tremendous undertaking for chapter Steward Marstellar, assisted by three members and six pledges. Not the least of the work was the setting up of tables and clearing them away after meals with a minimum of interference with the executive sessions of the convocation. An excellent job was done by this crew. The meals were tasty, well balanced, well prepared, and served with professional dexterity.

Saturday evening was crowded with activities. A banquet at six o'clock attracted many alumni who could not attend other sessions. Carl Cassone, the ample toastmaster, called upon Dr. Neal B. Bowman for the wit with which he has his students rolling in the corridors of the College of Pharmacy at Temple University. A splendid inspirational address by Executive Secretary Braun concluded this part of the program.

In no time at all the huge living rooms were divested of all furniture except a few chairs and sofas which found refuge in the corners. At nine o'clock an orchestra arrived and spent a half hour arranging its trappings. Soon the chapter house so vibrated with dancing couples that the Arch Editor (an engineer by profession) hastened to the cellar to study the deflection of the floor beams. He was grateful, for the sake of the fraternity's principal investment, that ample steel had been provided. The dance progressed till the small hours while some of the older members sought refuge in the card room.

On Sunday morning the convocation visitors attended the First Presbyterian Church of Allentown in a body and listened to an address by Arch Master McGinness on the significance of the Cross Fitchee which is incorporated in our insignia.

The convocation visitors were grateful for an opportunity to inspect the buildings and equipment of Muhlenberg College. They were particularly impressed by the magnificent memorial chapel which graces the campus.

SAMUEL A. PLEASANTS, Γ B '14 (California)

S. A. PLEASANTS ELECTED ARCH COUNCILOR

Samuel A. Pleasants, an attorney-at-law of New York City, was elected Arch Councilor by the Twelfth Arch Convocation as successor to Robert F. Dirkes.

To New York alumni, Brother Pleasants needs no introduction for he has been active in the T. U. O. club there since its inception in July, 1929. To the fraternity at large and even to the members of his own chapter who failed to study their pledge manuals with sufficient diligence, he is perhaps less well known.

Pleasants was born in Fayetteville, Arkansas, on February 18, 1893. His family removed to California in 1904, and he completed his elementary and secondary schooling there. Later he entered the University of California at Berkeley. There in the fall of 1913, near the end of his undergraduate career, he became associated with a small group of men who had interests in common. The many secret pow-wows conducted in their study rooms resulted in the formation of a club for which the Indian name "Tilicum" was selected. It was chartered by the University of California on January 1, 1914. The Tilicum Club prospered and petitioned Theta Upsilon Omega for membership in 1924. It was installed as Gamma Beta chapter on March 3, 1925.

Pleasants was graduated from the University of California in 1914 with the degree of B.L., and from the Hastings Law School of the University of California in 1917 with the degree of LL.B. He began the practice of law in San Francisco but removed to New York in 1919.

Brother Pleasants has successively been a member of the New York law firms of Marvin and Pleasants, Pleasants and Lowry, and Pleasants and Sperry. The last is his present connection, with offices at 99 John Street.

Like other members of the fraternity who have gravitated to New York from the West and the Middle West, Brother Pleasants has practically been adopted by Gamma Alpha chapter at Hoboken, New Jersey. He is a frequent visitor to the chapter and has helped in the solution of many of its problems. He is always willing to take a hand at bridge or lend an ear to the troubles of some T. U. O. who has bought a house for nothing down and found that even that was too much.

DIRKES LEAVES ARCH COUNCIL

Seven years of faithful service on the Arch Council is all that the fraternity can expect of any man. Thus, when Arch Councilor Robert F. Dirkes, Stevens '20, advised the Twelfth Arch Convocation that he would not be a candidate for reëlection, the fraternity could but resign itself to a change and express its appreciation of services so well performed.

Robert F. Dirkes

Adelphos Dirkes is a prominent engineer with the Western Union Telegraph Company in New York City. His design and development of telegraph equipment has led to some thirty-five patents, many of which are regarded as basic. He was in direct charge of the installation of the high-speed tickers on the New York Stock Exchange. This involved the design and manufacture of seven thousand machines, together with accessory equipment, and the installation of a nation-wide network reaching every large city in the United States, Canada and Cuba. Dirkes is a member of Gamma Alpha chapter, having graduated from the Stevens Institute of Technology in 1920. He has served many years on the alumni council of that chapter and has given his time and advice without stint.

To his more intimate friends around New York, he is known as the "Squire of Obtuse". He has been host to many T. U. O.'s at Obtuse Rocks, a charming rugged tract of Connecticut wilderness in Brookfield Township. Here he and Mrs. Dirkes spend many pleasant weeks each year at a cottage overlooking a tiny lake hemmed in by rocky knolls and deep woods. Here, also, Squire Dirkes finds time for two favorite pastimes, target shooting and reading detective stories.

The best we can wish Adelphos Dirkes at his retirement from Arch Council duties is many pleasant hours in the deck chair on the veranda at Obtuse Rocks.

LIAISON AT LAST!

By Carl A. Krohne, Θ B (Rensselaer)

The liaison committee was first organized at the Eleventh Arch Convocation, held at the Beta Alpha chapter house in the glorious city of Worcester, Massachusetts. This committee was more or less the brain-child of my good friend Carl A. Cassone, Delta Beta associate. Because of this fact and the fact that Carl is a typical T. U. O. alumnus, in that his whole heart and soul are tied up in the fraternity, it was especially significant and proper that the legislation with respect to the exchange of news letters by the various chapters be instigated by him at the recent Arch Convocation held in Muhlenberg. In order that Carl does not get all of the credit for this work, let me point out that I spoke in favor of the motion and that I have personally felt that this was one of the great works of the Twelfth Arch Convocation.

The practice of the exchange of chapter news letters is a custom that should be promoted and fostered by every chapter. The pleasure that I myself receive from a news letter is very great. I know of few pleasures that are equal to those I receive in the performance of my duties as herald of Theta Beta chapter, and one of these duties is the preparation of, and the mailing of the chapter publication Fusil Oil. In the past few months every chapter has received copies of Fusil Oil. You can see what it is, you know how much work there is to each issue, you know how much it costs for postage and mailing, yet Theta Beta chapter has profited so much by these last few issues, in an awakened alumni spirit, and a revived active members' interest, that it has purchased a mimeograph machine with which to prepare future issues.

I have mentioned the benefits that each chapter may receive through the issue of a chapter publication, through the illustration of our own chapter. We have benefited greatly, at a cost that is much less than the actual dollar returns in the dues paid by heretofore disinterested alumni, the number of alumni who are joining T. U. O. in the near future, and in the payment of overdue alumni accounts with the house. Another way that we have benefited is that we feel that we are creating a spirit of good will among our brothers in T. U. O. chapter houses all over the United States.

A short time ago two of our active members stopped for a few nights at one of our chapter houses on the coast. They came back with wild tales of the splendid fellows and T. U. O. spirit that they saw manifested at the chapter house. If these things can happen, and create such a spirit of good will in Theta Beta for that one chapter, why cannot a monthly, or periodical, news letter create a similar, if not as intense, bond between all of the chapters assembled under the T. U. O. banner? Isn't it worth while to spend a few dollars and time a year in order that the brothers of one chapter feel more closely the common bond of fraternal affiliation which holds us all in this brotherhood?

The next pertinent fact which one must consider is the fact that the herald is the man who gives birth to the news letter. If the herald of each chapter is not a man with a feeling inside of him that he was chosen, not by his brothers, but by a higher power, to be the go-between between chapter, alumni, and other chapters, then he is not the man for the job. Heralds! If you do consider your work as irksome, wasted, and a pain in the neck, it is your duty to T. U. O., and all that it represents, to resign at once. A herald must feel that within himself lies that vital something that will instill in his correspondence with all those outside of the chapter house a feeling of just what we mean when we speak of that T. U. O. spirit. Think it over fellows, your herald can make or break your chapter in the eyes of all who have dealings with it. He is T. U. O. itself, to that countless number of individuals with whom he corresponds in the name of the chapter. If he does his work in a slipshod, careless kind of way; that will be the impression the reader gets of T. U. O., not of one individual herald. Thus it is that your herald may fall short of his aims, not because he is not a swell fellow, but because he may make a better steward or marshall than he does a herald.

Now that we have discovered just what type of person your herald should be, let us take a further look into this news letter idea. The resolution, as passed at the convocation, reads that the various chapters must send out letters to all of the chapters at three different dates in the school year. Theta Beta, as you all know, has gone the rule one better and sends Fusil Oil out at least once a month. The idea is, however, a sound one. Theta Beta is interested in hearing from any and all of the chapters at any time, but since some of the chapters find this a bit hard on their heralds and wish to send them only three times a year, why not make those three issues really worth while? According to the rule, each chapter was to send one out by January 15, 1936. It is with singular interest that we note that Theta Beta was the only chapter to do so. What's wrong, fellows? Isn't it a good idea? It seems a shame that the fellows in the chapters, who visited Muhlenberg, should not have insisted on the issuance of these news letters. They had the importance of the move made very clear by such eloquent men as Carl, Professor Bowen, Arch Master McGinness, and others. Every man there voted to promote this work. Brothers, the sending out of the chapter news letter in the interests of liaison is one of the fundamental moves in the building of a strong national spirit.

ALUMNI CLUB ACTIVITIES

THE CHICAGO CLUB OF T. U. O.

William K. Wanner, Δ A '25, for many years an officer of the Chicago Club, reports in a letter as follows:

"We have met every month since August, when we held our annual fall banquet, and we always have a good time. We have finally found a very satisfactory meeting place in the Sherman Hotel. There we gather on the first Tuesday of each month at about 6:30 p. m. and have a good dinner for from 65 cents to $1.00. After the dinner we convene in a special meeting room upstairs which is always listed on the hotel bulletin board.

"The officers now in charge (elected in December) are, A. R. Gilkerson, president; Elmer Greenlee, vice-president; Roy G. Smith, secretary, and Jack Cowles, treasurer. With the election of these officers the older men, who had held office continuously for many years, stepped aside to give the younger men an opportunity to assume the responsibilities.

"I don't think that any special parties have been planned for the near future, though the usual summer activities will obtain—dates as yet undetermined". (These summer activities, if the Arch Editor's memory serves him correctly, include picnics, beach parties, and golf tournaments.)

Brother Wanner suggests that since he is relatively permanently located and readily accessible, visiting brothers passing through Chicago contact him. His address and telephone (Wabash 5840) are listed in the Chicago telephone directory. He adds, "Any T. U. O. is more than welcome at any meeting or function of the Chicago Club. I would welcome a call from any member passing through or stopping over in Chicago whether it is meeting time or not".

THE PHILADELPHIA CLUB OF T. U. O.

The Philadelphia Club, through its secretary John N. Danehower, E A '22, reports that adverse weather conditions at the time of the January meeting on the 24th of that month resulted in such small attendance that the election of officers was postponed till the following meeting.

At the meeting on February 11 the following officers were elected: Howard E. Morgan, president; John N. Danehower, secretary, and George Huyett, treasurer. This meeting also made extensive plans for the activities of the club for 1936. Each month a special effort is made to get the members of a particular class out to the meeting. A prominent member of that class writes a personal letter to each member urging his attendance.

The March meeting on the 10th gave ample evidence of the success of this planning. Thirty-five men came out, including a number who had not attended for several months. R. Lester Moore, Esq., a member of Eta Alpha chapter, entertained the members with stories of his experience in hunting big game. The meeting was climaxed by the showing of 1200 feet of action pictures taken in the North Woods.

THE LOS ANGELES CLUB OF T. U. O.

Charles R. Drenk, Δ A '25, until recently president of the Los Angeles Club writes:

"Our membership is pretty well scattered over Los Angeles and adjacent towns so we see little of each other except on meeting nights. We have excellent turn-outs once a month with occasionally a new face appearing. Ours is purely a social group. For the period of my presidency we met each month at the home of a member for dinner, a brief meeting, and cards.

"The members of the Los Angeles Club are practically all original members of the Tilicum Club (predecessor of Gamma Beta chapter) and hence a little older than the membership of other clubs. The University of California at Los Angeles (U. C. L. A.) seems to attract the younger generation from around here, so we have no one from this part of the state at Berkeley to return after graduation and swell the membership of the Los Angeles Club.

"At the last meeting, Bob Kadow was elected president and Bob Ford secretary-treasurer. We collect a percentage of the winnings from card playing at each meeting and therefore have no financial difficulties.

"George Braun sure was a fine stimulant to the boys here and I, personally, was well pleased with his showing and pleasing personality."

Editorial

Why an Annual Convocation

A meeting such as our convocation is often spoken of as "successful" without any attempt at a definition of what success in that instance means. At a college fraternity legislative session, success lies in the evidences produced that the fraternity is fulfilling its high mission and ideals. Measured by these standards, the recent Arch Convocation of this fraternity was eminently successful.

A convocation serves two principal functions. First of all, it is the legislative body of the fraternity and makes the laws by which the latter operates. In the early days of our fraternity, this frequently consumed a tremendous amount of time and energy. The past session, however, found it necessary to make no fundamental changes in our laws. This is an indication that the organization has reached a stage of stable and successful operation.

This situation left more time and zest for the second function, that of serving as a well of inspiration for those who serve the fraternity in many capacities. This in itself is of sufficient importance to warrant convocations, even though not a scrap of business be transacted. Both old and young workers are stimulated to greater efforts by the association with men of kindred spirits and the exchange of mutual confidence which a convocation makes possible.

One Generation

Beta Alpha chapter at Worcester Polytechnic Institute on February 22 of this year celebrated the thirtieth anniversary of its founding, an occasion which should not pass without a word of comment. As befits its location and the New England temperament, Beta Alpha is one of the steadiest and most dependable of our chapters. Some of this may, of course, be ascribed to the fact that it is situated at a technical school which makes for a homogeneity of type of membership, and, incidentally, a membership bent on hard work.

We suspect that the alumni returning for the celebration found little change in either the Institute or the fraternity. Steady and efficient progress has characterized both. The alumni have displayed continued interest in and esteem for both the college and the fraternity. Alumni functions of many kinds are widely attended. Year after year sees a big gathering at the T. U. O. house on Washington's birthday.

At the end of thirty years we should expect to find some of the second generation in attendance at Worcester Tech and participating in the affairs of the fraternity. A news item in this issue of The Omegan reveals that this is the case. We find Norman Packard, '39, the son of Roland Packard, '08, and John Chapin Harvey, Jr., '38, the son of John Chapin Harvey, Sr., '08, both active members of Beta Alpha chapter. A higher tribute to this chapter cannot be found, nor a stronger guarantee of its future.

The basketball team of Beta Alpha chapter ended the Interfraternity series sharing honors for first place with two other fraternities. When the triple tie was played off, the team tied for second place. Richard Howes and Roger Grant led the fraternities in individual scoring. Perry Clark, Michael Rallis, John Lindegren, and Carl Lewin were also responsible for the team's success.

The dozen or so brothers from Beta Alpha who attended the W. P. I.-R. P. I. football game in Troy, New York, last fall were showered with hospitality from Theta Beta chapter and had a grand week-end.

At the end of the first scheduled Rush Week, Beta Alpha pledged 15 men from the freshman class. To these was added another at the second rushing period. Initiation for these men was held after the mid-year recess from February 7 to February 14. Seven freshmen and one sophomore joined at this time. They are Jack Farley Boyd, '39, Robert Chandler Dunham, '39, Andrew M. Fine, Jr., '39, Floyd James Folmsbee, '39, John Chapin Harvey, Jr., '38, Vernon John Liberty, '39, Edwin Loveday Kiem, '39, Norman Alfred Packard, '39.

Beta Alpha chapter took fourth place in the Interfraternity relay races. Harold Johnson, '37, Clinton Leech, '36, Philip Stafford, '38, Julian Buck, '37, Robert Taft, '38, John Lindegren, '38, and Stanley Olsen, '39, contributed their efforts to the team.

The officers of Beta Alpha for the second semester were elected and installed in January. Brother Leech is master, Brother Johnson, marshal, Brother Buck, scribe, Harold Whitman, '36, recorder, Harry Anderson, Jr., '36, steward, Byron Wilson, '38, herald, and Henry Dearborn, '37, chaplain.

Ellis Russell Spaulding, '32, an instructor in mechanical engineering, has succeeded Professor Arthur J. Knight as faculty advisor to Beta Alpha chapter.

Beta Alpha's annual Christmas banquet was held on Sunday, December 15. Over 60 members, both active and graduates, enjoyed the steak dinner and the distribution of presents which followed. Another of our annual social activities, the Pledge dance, held soon after the Christmas recess, was well attended and considered a great success.

On February 22, Beta Alpha chapter celebrated the thirtieth anniversary of the founding of Delta Tau, the original local chapter, and the twelfth of Theta Upsilon Omega. The program for the day was as follows: meeting at 10:30; dinner at Putnam and Thurston's at 2:00; house basketball game between the alumni and the actives at 6:00 in the Tech gym; varsity game between Tech and Clark at 8:00; ending up with a dance from 9:30 to 1:00. Seventy-nine active and associate members answered the roll call in the meeting. A gift was made by the associates to make possible the completion of our addressograph system. The previously mentioned sophomore and seven freshmen were given the final degree. During the meeting and at the banquet following every member present pledged $100, $10 to be paid every year for ten years. Herbert M. Carleton was toastmaster at the banquet. A talk entitled "Strange as It Seems" was given by John C. Harvey, '08, and "A Freshman's Impressions" was discussed by Edwin Kiem, '39. Everybody trooped up to the gym after the banquet to see what the oldtimers could do against the actives in basketball. They did pretty well, too, for the final score showed the active members ahead only 24-22. The day was brought to a close with a well-attended house dance chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Roland Packard.

Gamma Alpha

Gamma Alpha is pleased to announce the formal initiation of Dominic Masi, '37, John Boyajean, '38, Richard Goldrick, '38, Harry Muller, '38, John Munak, '38, Avernack Johnson, '39. The week preceding initiation was pronounced the best in years.

We plan to have another initiation in the near future. Plans are also being made for the annual open house dance, to be held in April.

As the first semester closed, Pledge Henry Wiederhold, '36, was initiated into active membership. A few weeks later, his brother, John Wiederhold, '39, Clare Carlson, '37, Frank Casey, '39, and James Burgess became adelphoi.

To replace these men in the pledge ranks, Delta Alpha has pledged Gordon Sherlock, '39, and Charles Hall, '39.

Delta Alpha's first venture into intramural water polo met with moderate success. As the basketball team is yet to be defeated in intramural play, it looks as if Delta Alpha will add another trophy to the one it annexed in baseball.

The second semester radio dance has set everybody to thinking about what orchestra will play for the Spring Formal, planned for the latter part of April.

Delta Alpha chapter and Phi Mu sorority seemed to enjoy themselves immensely at their exchange dinner. The Delta Alpha actives had their dinner at the Phi Mu house, while the pledge brothers entertained the Phi Mu pledges at the T. U. O. house.

The annual Pig Dinner was such a tasty success that many of the members have suggested that the affair be made a semiannual one.

Delta Alpha active members played hosts to the alumni at Homecoming. True to the finest Homecoming traditions, it rained and blew until nearly all the houses on the campus had their decorations blown away.

Through the generosity of the alumni, a new all-wave radio was placed in the Great Hall. The old radio has been placed in the dining room, so that eating is done to the tune of the country's best orchestras.

Epsilon Alpha
Temple University

Election of officers for the 1936-37 semesters was held on March 2. The office of master goes to Calvin T. Doussoulas, '37; recorder steward, William C. Hopler, '38; marshal, Gordon Smith, '37; scribe, Nelson Ricker, '37; herald, William Boyer, '39; chaplain, George Alexander, '37; inner guard, Harold Griffith, '37; outer guard, Charles Frailey, '37.

The retiring officers are Arthur L. Dymond, '37, master; Charles T. Shane, '36, recorder steward; H. Calvin Terry, '37, marshal; Charles Frailey, '37, scribe; Nelson Ricker, '37, herald;

Hunter Sutcliffe, '36, chaplain; Gordon Smith, '37, inner guard; Harold Griffith, '37, outer guard.

If the latter list is compared with the one printed last fall it will be noticed that several changes have since occurred. These changes took place during an epidemic of resignations. Mark E. Herrold resigned his office of steward because he believed that his office was no longer of any significance since Epsilon Alpha gave up its dining facilities. He recommended that it be combined with the office of recorder. His suggestion was accepted by the chapter and the office was put in the capable hands of Recorder Emmett Dunn. Two weeks later the recorder-steward announced his forthcoming marriage and resigned his office. The inner guard, Charles Phillips, then resigned because he was leaving school.

The initiates of the fall class were George Alexander, '37; William Boyer, '38; Leon Doughty, '38; William Hopler, '38; Jack Mosteller, '37; and Gordon Smith, '37.

Joseph Loeffler, '39, of Souderton, Pennsylvania, was recently pledged.

Epsilon Alpha stands in the first rank among the contenders for the University Interfraternity Athletic Trophy. The basketball team, consisting of Clarence Carper, William Hopler, Elmer Anderson, James Russell, George Alexander, and Pledge Arthur Ness are "the top". In the basketball foul-shooting contest the three highest scorers are Adelphoi Russell and Carper and Pledge Glenn Fry. All in all, the trophy may be ours, here's hoping!

Hunter Sutcliffe, '36, is captain of the varsity golf team.

The social set of Epsilon Alpha has been enjoying a brisk season. House dances have been held frequently. Climax of the winter season was the Christmas Dance which was attended by most of the members and a number of associates. However, all thoughts are now turned to May 16 when the Annual Spring Dinner Dance will be held. The committee in charge is chairmaned by Charles Shane, and the co-chairman is Hunter Sutcliffe. Their assistants are George Alexander and Clarence Carper.

At the recent Arch Convocation, Charles T. Shane was the delegate, and Clarence S. Carper the alternate, of Epsilon Alpha. Beside these two, there were a number of other Epsilonians: Faculty Advisor Neil Bowman, Chapter Advisor Howard E. Morgan; and associates Henry C. Westenberger, Kenneth Kramer and Marion W. Milliron. The reports, both business and social, were so interesting that a number have expressed a strong desire to attend next year's Convocation.

The graduates of June, 1936, will be Clarence S. Carper, Mark E. Herrold, James L. Russell, Charles T. Shane, Hunter Sutcliffe, and Theodore Smith.

Epsilon Alpha was agog for some time before and after the wedding of Emmett B. Dunn, '37, to Miss Janice S. Wescott on February 1. The couple were entertained at a Sunday afternoon tea, and a "Farewell to Bachelorhood" party was tendered Emmett at Brother Ted Smith's house.

The wedding ceremony was held at All Saints' Episcopal Church in Leonia, New Jersey. Charles T. Shane, '36, was best man, and a number of active and associate men were present. Among them were Henry Westenberger, '32, Ray Groller, '34, Kenneth Kramer, '35, Ira Wattis, '37, and Charles Frailey, '37.

The bride is the daughter of Adelphos and Mrs. Albert L. Wescott. Adelphos Wescott is an associate member of Gamma Alpha chapter at Stevens Institute of Technology.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Dunn are continuing their studies at the University. Mrs. Dunn is a member of the Theta Sigma Omega Sorority.

Theta Alpha
University of New Hampshire

Perhaps our greatest and most satisfying accomplishment this year was the pledging of thirty-six (36) freshmen. Theta Alpha chapter put in one of the most vigorous rushing seasons of its history. To Adelphos Pike must go much of the praise for our success, for he managed the entire rushing season. Theta Alpha chapter announces with pleasure the pledging of: Robert Batchelder, Philip Bell, Ralph Howard Bissell, Jr., William Blakey, Pierre Boy, William Raymond Carey, Jr., Edward Blanchard Cloues, Paul Corbin, Herbert Dolittle, Raymond S. Dower, Jr., Basil Michael Ferris, Alexander Gordon, Harold Harding, Edwin Carroll Haseltine, Jr., William Jaques, Robert Engalls Kemp, Frank Holt Langdon, Martin Lincoln, Arthur McCaffery, John McCarthy, Gordon McDonald, Robert Nash, Charles O'Neill, Robert Osborn, Wendell Pratt, Herbert Price, William Rivers, Victor Winston Smith, Lewis Charles Spinney, Daniel Stanton, Karl Eklund Swenson, William Terrill, Harold Trojano, Albion Warren, and Norman Wilder.

Theta Alpha Chapter also takes pleasure in announcing the initiation of Leo Callins, '37, of Framingham, Massachusetts; Robert Sullivan, '37, of Concord, New Hampshire; and Vincent Witter, '37, of Berlin, New Hampshire.

We are happy to say that all but three of the men living in the chapter house are members. This spring we hope that most of the freshmen will become members. Theta Alpha will soon be able to boast the largest number of active T. U. O. members actually living on a campus.

A dozen of the members and pledges gave up a good part of their Christmas vacation this year to paint the interior of the house. All of the main rooms and vestibules were repainted, as well as the ceilings of these rooms. A new oil burner will soon be installed in the house.

Graduation took many of last year's intramural point winners, but T. U. O. is still in the running this year. For the first time in the history of the University, touch football became an intramural sport this fall. T. U. O. started out this fall with high hopes of winning the touch football points, but we reckoned without our opponents. Though defeated in this sport we waited confidently for the other sports. Relay next engaged our attention. The relay team tried hard, but was up against superior material. Last year T. U. O. won the basketball trophy, but we were defeated this year after a hard struggle. Our hockey team strapped on its skates prepared to avenge these defeats. They almost succeeded. T. U. O. swept through trials and semi-finals easily. Every indication pointed to victory for the hockey club. However, in the finals they met with disaster. Fighting grimly, the puck chasers lost the decisive game by one goal. Winter sports were the next attraction. T. U. O. has never been very strong in this sport, but we did manage to garner a first place in the ski jump. Brother "Skip" Witter was the winner of the jump. "Skip" comes from Berlin, New Hampshire, which is the home of many a ski champ. The bowling team now has the center of the stage. The outcome of intramural bowling is still in doubt, but prospects for a T. U. O. win are extremely dubious.

In all of these sports our freshmen pledges have taken a part.

George W. Braun, our national executive secretary, spent a week at Theta Alpha Chapter. Brother Braun is one of the most congenial men that T. U. O. has. He played ping pong a few times, and in spite of repeated defeats never lost his desire to try again. Brother Braun is regarded with respect and genuine affection by every man in this chapter. We all hope that he pays us another visit soon.

Theta Alpha chapter recently elected its officers for this year. The officers are as follows: Albert Weatherby, '37, master; Laurence Morrill, '37, marshal; John R. Gisburne, '38, herald; Alden Winn, '37, recorder; Arthur Moscardini, '37, scribe; Arthur Snowman, '38, chaplain; Allan Simpson, '37, steward (reëlected); William Spaulding, '38, outer guard, Robert DuBois, '38, inner guard; Earnest Furnans, '37, social chairman.

Iota Alpha
Pennsylvania State College

With a continuous effort the number of pledges and members is becoming greater each semester. Phil Paterson, Mac Mackay, Jim McMarthy, Brooks Ringelaben, Reds Ramsey, and Ben Creveling were pledged the first semester. Jim Noonan has been pledged this semester. Since there have been rather difficult conditions of rushing at State, (350 boys went fraternity out of 1800 and there are 55 fraternities,) we are proud of our small accomplishment.

Gamma Beta
University of California

This being Leap Year, the entire University has been waiting anxiously for the occasion of the Big "C" Sirkus, a celebration presented by California's athletic honor society once every college generation. The Sirkus consists of a parade in which the various campus organizations participate, and a carnival held under a real "Big Top", along with an all-campus dance in the evening.

For their entrant in the parade, the members of Gamma Beta have decorated an old wreck of a car in a good fire-engine red color and have designated it as the "Big Red Machine —1936 Model" in honor of California's deadly rival, Stanford. After tasting defeat for three years straight in football, in 1936 all Californians are hoping that the Stanford team can be compared to the wreck which Gamma Beta has entered in the celebration. As a concession in the carnival, a chance wheel has been secured and the chapter's leading gambler has been put in charge with the hope that the house will come out ahead.

Besides the Big "C" Sirkus, the chapter is looking forward to its leading social event of the semester: the annual Spring Formal, to be held on March 7. The various dance committees have been busy and one of the leading campus orchestras has been secured. The members are expecting this Spring Formal to be the most successful in years.

Gamma Beta was unusually successful last semester in the various intramural sports, and at the start of this semester was in second place in interfraternity ratings. She was beaten in the semi-finals of the touch-tackle league, and after a tough schedule was defeated in the finals of tackle football competition. She has also picked up scattered points in various other competitions. This spring the chapter has entered teams in the tennis, softball, and track competitions, and hopes to continue the pace set last semester, and perhaps bring home the winner's trophy at the end of the semester.

The chapter's leading aspirant for track and field honors is George Mackey, who last season became the first California man to throw the shot over 50 feet. Besides being one of the foremost collegiate shot-putters in the United States, Mackey has an excellent chance of representing our country in the coming Olympic games in the decathlon, since he took second place in the National A. A. U. decathlon meet held last summer at Long Beach.

Participation in varsity crew gave two T. U. O. men a chance to break into the movies, as Bill Barnes, coxswain, and Wayne Gregg, number 4 oarsman, had leading parts in the sport short taken of the world champion California crews by Metro-Goldwin-Mayer on the Oakland Estuary. Gregg is seen frequently in the picture, and is recognized as the man who catches a "crab" and is thrown from the shell into the water. Barnes takes the part of the coxswain of the freshman boat which defeats the varsity in a race, with the result that he is thrown into the Estuary by his boat-mates. These two men have excellent opportunities to get positions on California's varsity crew which will attempt to repeat the Olympic victories of '23 and '32.

Delta Beta
Muhlenberg College

Delta Beta stole a march on the intramural competition by scheduling some outside basketball games to "tune up". The first contest against Charles J. Stoppe's ('30) Oley High School team resulted in a victory, 27 to 26, for the team coached by Phil "Battler" Nelson, '38. Delta Beta hopes to improve its intramural standings this year.

A Pre-Lenten house dance topped off the Junior Prom weekend. Annual highlight of Delta Beta's social activities is the Spring Formal, as usual at South Mountain Manor, Wenersville, Pennsylvania.

"Hell-Week" saw an addition to the usual programme. Pledges spent part of the time fixing up bad spots around the house.

The first initiation of the school year saw pledge brothers Mark Frantz and John Siegfried initiated on March 6. A large number of arriving alumni witnessed the ritual.

March 7 was Alumni and Founders' Day, with the alumni disporting before and particularly after the banquet.

The Mothers' Club continues its activities, as usual climaxed by its annual banquet in April.

Eta Beta
Alabama Polytechnic Institute

Eta Beta will lose two men this year by graduation, Alton Graves of Collinsville, Alabama, landscape architecture and Wilson Hill of Fort Payne, Alabama, education. Brother Graves was master this year and Brother Hill was marshal.

At the regular house meeting February 24, the following men were elected to office. Richard Duffel, a junior in veterinary medicine from Macon, Georgia, was elected master of the chapter. Gordon Black, a sophomore in agriculture from Arab, Alabama, was elected marshal. J. T. Miller, a sophomore in textile engineering from West Blocton, Alabama, was elected recorder. Andrew Curlee, a sophomore in agriculture from Wetumpka, Alabama, was elected chaplin. James Atkinson, a junior in veterinary medicine from Auburn, was elected scribe.

Gordon Black, '38, and J. T. Miller, '38, were initiated in October.

Andrew Curlee, '38, was initiated in January.

Alumni Notes

Gamma Alpha

Gamma Alpha associate chapter recently held its annual banquet at the chapter house. A large number turned out, the beer flowed freely, and the stories became funnier as time went on. Present were the old standbys, Al Wescott, Len Lindner, Carl Claus (who acted as toastmaster,) Jim Stagg, A. Harold Peters, and Bob Steeneck. The last one seen to leave, his eye still on a quarter-full keg, was Hans Nefzger.

Newly-elected officers of the chapter Council are John L. Lindner, president; Paul C. Kaestner, vice-president; Robert Steeneck, recorder; Daniel F. Hoth, corresponding secretary; Hans Nefzger, secretary; Edward J. Hazen, council member.

Arthur C. Winter and Richard H. Dischinger are both working for a research corporation, designing a model prefabricated house.

Rodney McDonough is with Ford at Edgewater. He gets up every morning at 5:30 so that his Ford can get him to work on time.

Kenneth J. Moser, '28, is doing graduate work at Stevens Tech.

Delta Alpha

George Gilkerson, '35, has started well in his law career by becoming a member of the law firm of Joslyn and Joslyn of Woodstock, Illinois.

Louis Slimmer, '26, athletic director of Proviso Township High School, stopped in at the house recently with his wrestling team. The wrestling team has stayed at the house twice this year, once to beat Champaign High School, and once to win the state championship.

Robert L. Foster, '35, and John W. Acker, '35, explain their periodical visits to the house as due to their longing to see all the old members again. But most of the older members, remembering that Foster and Acker have hung their pins down here on the campus, wag their heads knowingly.

Percy C. Harden, '35, is up in the North Woods, building himself a log cabin and buying all the antique guns he can lay his hands on.

John Harrington, '35, is buying the guns Harnden cannot buy. Harrington's new job is with the Illinois Central Railroad.

Haviland A. Connolly, '34, is working for the Mattoon and Decatur newspapers in southern Illinois.

Eta Alpha

Romantic is the story surrounding the wedding, announced in this issue, of John George Wenzl, '33, to Miss Ruth Anne Remon, daughter of the general manager of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, of Washington, D. C. In 1933, the year Wenzl graduated from George Washington University, Miss Remon graduated from Sweet Briar College.

Adelphos Wenzl's home is in Irvington, New Jersey, but last Fall his work for the United States Treasury took him to Juneau, Alaska, where he will probably be stationed for some time.

A trip back to Washington for a wedding was an impossibility, so Miss Remon and her parents went to Seattle, Washington, where Wenzl was waiting with a marriage license. After the ceremony on April 11, the couple sailed for Juneau to make their home.

Theta Alpha

William Hancock, '35, and Harry West, '35, are wintering in Florida.

Elliot Cummings sailed for Bermuda from New York March 21.

Howard Witham, '35, is installing stoves for the Holland Furnace Company in Keene, New Hampshire.

Eliot Priest, '34, is working for Public Service in Keene.

Winslow Sawyer, '35, is working for Pratt and Whitney Company of Hartford, Connecticut.

Al Furnans, '35, has been promoted to sales engineer of the Morse Twist Drill Company of New Bedford, Massachusetts.

Courtney Williams, '34, is working for an insurance company in Concord, New Hampshire.

Frank Perry, '28, is chief distributing agent for a soap processing company in Manchester, New Hampshire.

Woodrow Bartlett, '35, is district supervisor of the Eastern Farmers Exchange.

Harold Clough, '35, is working for his uncle in West Alton, New Hampshire.

Norman Grover, '35, is engaged by the state in repairing tractors.

Al Rinehart, '27, is teaching school in Wilimatic, Connecticut.

Frank Green, '32, is practicing law in Boston.

Iota Alpha

The class of '26 is doing very well. Philip Ayres is general manager of the Lackawanna Mills, Inc., of Scranton, Pennsylvania. Phil has two children, a boy and a girl.

M. T. Bunnell is supervisor of class centers, extension service, for the Pennsylvania State College.

S. K. Stevens is associate professor of history at the College.

Adelphos Tabscott, a member of the military department of Pennsylvania State College for five years, has been stationed at the Schofield Barracks, Hawaii.

E. E. Hawkins, '29, is doing graduate work at the University of California.

Gamma Beta

Claude Fancher, '29, has taken a government teaching position on the Hoopa Indian Reservation in Northern California.

Sam Gill, '34, member of Phi Beta Kappa and former football star, recently received a scholarship in Boalt Hall of Law as the leading man of his class in the law college.

Jack Martin, '35, former varsity crew man, obtained a position with the Government Soil Conservation Service soon after his graduation, and at present is working in Southern California.

Jack Yates, '35, is attending law school at Boalt Hall and has a position as assistant coach of freshman crew.

Duane Luther, '34, during the last year has been trainer for the various freshman sports here at the University. He has also coached the 145-pound basketball team.

Erling Thermod, '32, has been employed since last spring in the Bureau of Statistics in Washington, D. C.

Clarence B. Betz, '29, is doing an excellent job as alumnus advisor for the chapter and is aiding greatly with house finances.

Delta Beta

William Hausman, '32, and Forrest Moyer, '35, are both employed in their home communities after illness prevented their study at medical school.

Ralph Dinger, '32, reports profitable employment in Washington, New Jersey, as do Herman Mittler, '30, in Englewood, New Jersey, Harold Goll, '33, in Reading, Pennsylvania, and J. Carroll Wilkinson, '28, in the same place.

Francis Eisenhauer, '32, besides reporting a blessed event, writes that he is transferred to Brooklyn, New York.

Kermit Gregory, '28, divides his time between teaching and the Mack Plant, Allentown, Pennsylvania.

Newton Kunkel, '32, is still gentleman farmer-boying around the wilds of Tamaqua, Pennsylvania.

Wilmer Wolf, '33, after a session with the Relief Corps, is trying to connect with some musical work.

Philip Baty, '31, is getting along with New Jersey Power and Light at Newton, New Jersey.

Walter Wolfe, '29, is showing a nice pair of heels to his fellow alumni. Chief auditor of the purchasing department of Eastern Michigan Railways is the most recent step upwards.

J. Philip Sell, '34, is still with Hess Brothers, Allentown, Pennsylvania.

Two Delta Betans are with Socony Vacuum Oil: Ray Bachman, '33, at Upper Darby, Pennsylvania, and J. A. Manbeck, '28, at Scotia, New York.

Edward Boyle, '29, is engaged in social work at Moorestown, New Jersey. He and Ernest Minka, '29, are our most recent M.A.'s Al having secured his at Rutgers.

Malcolm Parker, '34, is now employed at the Fownes Glove Company, Amsterdam, New York.

Eldridge Barrett, '30, is managing a chain hardware store in Philadelphia.

Willard Krieble, '34, has shifted activities to Roselle, New Jersey, where he is connected with Dugan's Bakeries.

Marvin Schmehl, '28, is transferred to Junior High School work at Reading, Pennsylvania.

Delta Beta welcomes another professional man in the person of Dr. Arland Lebo, '30, located at West Grove, Pennsylvania.

Charles Johnson, '31, has added teaching to his activities at Pennsburg, Pennsylvania.

Frederick Kogel, '27, has new Delta Beta neighbors in the persons of John Kanyuck and John Brokhoff, both '35, at Mt. Airy Seminary, Philadelphia.

Norman Dinger, '29, is in the teaching system of Dallas Township, Pennsylvania.

Luther Hook, '28, is likewise at Ramsey, New Jersey.

Alfred Ebert, '27, has shifted from Philadelphia to New Tripoli Pennsylvania, temporarily, and is an occasional visitor at the Delta Beta house.

Winter activities of Charles Fetter, '33, included a five week's tour of Central and South America. Report on the senoritas is awaited.

The engagements of Luther K. Zeigler, '35, Stanley Reimer, '30, Alfred Buhl, '29, and the great Krooss, '34, are expected daily. Earle White, '31, of Frackville, Pennsylvania is reported married.

Charles Hoppes, '32, is managing a silk factory in Lehighton.

Epsilon Beta

Dr. Leslie M. Bell, '29, is beginning a three-year interneship in Surgery at the Roosevelt Hospital in New York City. Adelphos Bell, son of an Alabama small-town physician, was one of the youngest graduates ever turned out by the University of Alabama, and a member of Phi Beta Kappa. Following his graduation, he traveled extensively in the United States and took graduate work at the University of California, where he became acquainted with the members of Gamma Beta chapter.

During this past summer, he had the "job" (he calls it a streak of luck) of taking a fifteen-year-old boy for a three-months' trip to Europe. They bicycled through some of the continental countries after visiting some of the boy's relatives in England. They covered, in six weeks of hiking, 2400 miles, and managed to see most of England, Holland, Belgium and France.

Bell says he had such a good time that he is reconciled to settling down to the grind of three years as an interne.

Eta Beta

Visitors to the house the month of January were B. W. Appleton, '34, R. W. Perry, '34, E. J. Gildehous and James Hilburn. Appleton and Perry attended the Junior Prom.

Claude H. Murry, '35, is located in Atlanta, Georgia, where he is employed by an electrical company.

Dr. G. D. Batcheldor, '35, is employed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and is doing Tuberculosis eradication work in cattle in the State of Mississippi.

W. D. Smith, '35, master of Eta Beta last year, was in school the first semester working on his master's degree in mechanical engineering. He is now employed by the Gulf State Steel Company in Alabama City, Alabama.

J. H. Jackson, '36, a transfer from the Epsilon Beta chapter, is teaching vocational agriculture at Leroy, Alabama.

B. C. Pope, '34, is now employed by the Rural Resettlement Administration in Auburn.

H. S. Williams, '33, is working for the Goodrich Rubber Company, in Chicago. His address is 5643 Sheridan Road.

Theta Beta

Cyril Van Wyck Kimball, '34, is now attending Rutgers, where he is taking a business course.

Wesley H. Millard, '33, has an engineering position in Gasport, New York. Wes may be reached at Post-Office Box 26 in Gasport.

Joseph Chamberlain, '33, is a highway engineer in Chester, New York. Joe may be reached at Postoffice Box 347 in Chester.

Harry T. Burgess, '33, is a mechanical engineer in the employ of the New Departure Corporation. He may be reached at 34 Columbia Street, Meriden, Connecticut. The King writes that all is well and that he will be on hand for the Founders' Day banquet.

Sydney R. Gottschalk, '31, is a registered patent attorney in the employ of Herman Seid of New York City. Syd may be contacted at 392 St. John's Place, Brooklyn, New York.

Wallace Rudd, '33, works for the Edison Electric Company. His address is now 81 Elliot Avenue, Yonkers, New York.

Andrew Hopper, '28, may be located at 17 Hoyt Street, Spring Valley, New York.

Francis B. Hayes is a specialist in the design and construction of safes and locks. His address is now 32 Fairfield Street, Springfield, Massachusetts.

E. G. Smythe, '32, is a transportation engineer for the Colonial Beacon Oil Company, in Utica, New York. Smythe may be reached at 1608 Taylor Avenue, Utica.

Merwin Isaac Rayner, '33, writes that his address is 268 Marlbourough Road, Brooklyn, New York.

Norman C. Jeckel, '32, is in the employ of the American Systoscope Company, of New York. Norm lives at 116 Hutchinson Boulevard, Mount Vernon, New York.

Personal Mention

John F. Bonner, '38, has been elected secretary of his class at Rensselaer, and manager of class handball. Adelphos Bonner is also a member of the Rochester Club.

Robert C. Cox, '37, has been elected treasurer of the Rensselaer student branch of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers. Adelphos Cox is also a member of the Institute band.

Peter P. Montfort, '39, is a member of the R. P. I. Rifle Club.

Pledge Warren Allen, '39, is a news apprentice on the staff of the Rensselaer Polytechnic, the student weekly.

Pledge Walter Hassenplug, '37, was awarded second prize for an original song used in the variety musical show at the Institute playhouse. Pledge Hassenplug wrote both words and music.

Julius Edward Guild, '36, and Carl Shepard Otto, '37, were pledged by Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering society, at a fall assembly of Worcester Polytechnic Institute.

Richard Munson, '38, and Floyd Folmsbee, '39, have made the W. P. I. varsity basketball team. Dick is an outstanding forward, and Floyd is a very dependable guard. Stanley Olsen has made the Tech varsity relay team. Frank Kenwood Jones, '36, is doing well on the varsity swimming team.

Norman Packard, '39, has followed in his father's footsteps in joining Beta Alpha chapter of T. U. O. "Pack" is the son of Roland Packard, '08, charter member No. 3 of Beta Alpha. Also the son of an old member is John Chapin Harvey, Jr., '38, who joined at the Convocation meeting. His father is John C. Harvey, Sr.; '08, charter member No. 9.

Adelphoi Baksa and Goldrick of the Stevens chapter are to be seen daily in the batting cage in preparation for the coming baseball season.

Adelphos Masi is the business manager of the Link, Stevens yearbook.

Pledge Basuino, of Gamma Alpha chapter is the manager of the embryo but nevertheless highly successful fencing team. He wields a mean foil himself.

Delta Beta retains its usual "legs" on the Weekly with the following: J. Keiper, '36, managing editor; F. Knouss, '37, W. Griffin, '37, both assistants; and J. Simpson, '38, sophomore staff. The following pledges are scrubs: M. Frantz, A. Stewart, Howard Goheen, N. Fister, P. Ziegler, and T. Schiefele.

D. Trautwine Smith, '36, is treasurer of the Student Council and heads the student body Prom Committee at Muhlenberg.

In athletics, F. Knouss, '37, varsity basketball, W. Griffin, '37, varsity track and Pledge Harper, frosh football, are Delta Beta's leading exponents.

The Muhlenberg College band is rendered musical with Delta Betas, among whom are R. Fenstermacher, '36, D. Trautwine Smith, '36, N. Bramer, '37, M. Joy Mylymuk, '38, and F. Everitt Gaumer, '36.

The Delta Beta basketball squad includes P. Nelson, '38, N. Louie Behney, '36, H. Doepper, '38, W. Griffin, '37, C. Harper, '39, E. Snyder, '38, C. Proehl, '39, T. Schiefele, '39, H. Goheen, '39. The tennis squad is composed of J. Shillingsworth Kieper, '36, F. Everitt Gaumer, '36, and H. Doepper, '38.

Andrew Curlee, a sophomore, is a regular member of the varsity basketball squad at Auburn.

Gordon Black, a sophomore, is also a member of the Auburn basketball squad, although he did not get to play as much as Curlee. J. C. Holmes, a freshman, is a regular on the freshman basketball squad.

Clare Carlson, Δ A '37, is working hard on the production staff of "Man and the Masses", while Ed Feiser, '37, is playing the lead in this Illini Theatre Guild production of labor problems.

Alfred Henning, '37, has just become an active member of the University of Illinois Cavalry Club and Arden Colby a member of the select R. O. T. C. drilling corps, the Pershing Rifles.

John F. White, '38, and James McLean, '36, make regular weekend trips from Illinois to the Purdue campus, where they and the rest of the boys in the "Campus Band" are great favorites.

Edward Chodokoski and Pledge Maurice Herlihy both played on the New Hampshire varsity basketball team this year.

Earnest Furnans and Robert Dubois were members of the New Hampshire varsity rifle team this past year. The team won the New England rifle team championship, and Brother DuBois won his N. H. Brother Furnans also had the leading role in "The Pirates of Penzance" one of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas. Ernie received well deserved praise in the leading papers of the state as well as in the campus news for his fine performances.

Pledge William Hersey is now news editor of the University newspaper, the New Hampshire. Bill started out last year as a heeler for the paper and gradually worked his way into a good position. His ability as a journalist has earned him widespread recognition.

William Spaulding of Theta Alpha chapter is a regular speaker over station WHEB in Portsmouth. Bill is working for wider recognition and interest in politics and economics as they concern us.

William Rivers, a Theta Alpha pledge, made the freshman football team this year. Bill played left tackle and played it well, according to his coach. Bill won his football numerals.

Pierre Boy of Theta Alpha made his freshman numerals in basketball. Pierre was one of the best guards on the fast freshman five.

Carroll Hazeltine, another of Theta Alpha's versatile freshmen, was the regular goalie for a freshman hockey club that lost only three games out of its entire schedule. Hazeltine won his hockey numerals, and will be right in line for the versity position next year.

Obituary

William H. Whitaker

It is with the most sincere regrets that Epsilon Alpha announces the passing of Brother William H. Whitaker on December 24, 1935. His death occurred after several months of illness at the Philadelphia Naval Hospital.

Brother Whitaker was born in Philadelphia on August 17, 1893, the son of William H. and Margaret C. Whitaker. He graduated from Temple University with a Bachelor of Laws degree in 1918. From 1921 to 1928 he was a lecturer on real estate and business law at the University; having organized the departments in 1920. It was while he was on the faculty that he became a Faculty Member of Epsilon Alpha.

Being a prominent member of the bar, he held many offices of civic importance. He was Secretary of the Pennsylvania Commission to Revise Township Laws, and a member of the Legislative Committee of the Pennsylvania State Association of Township Commissions, because of his wealth of knowledge concerning township law.

Brother Whitaker was the American Legion Commander of the Chester and Delaware County Districts. The Legion played an important part in the funeral services which were held at St. Alice Church in Upper Darby.

He is survived by his wife and three children.

Royce Rogers Henning

Iota Alpha chapter regrets to announce the death of Royce Rogers Henning, of the class of 1931, on September 2, 1935, in New York City.

Fraternal and Collegiate

"Amherst College students", said an Amherst, Massachusetts, dispatch to the New York Times, "are taking an aggressive part in town politics for the first time in a score of years. In their last activity of the kind, they packed the town meeting and voted for the erection of a new town hall one foot wide and 100 feet long and made of glass. They lost the local franchise after that. Now they are fighting the town's custom of dumping snow on the town common, making an unsightly outlook for some fraternity houses."

Fraternity mergers are continuing. Delta Sigma Lambda started several years ago by absorbing Theta Alpha. Tau Kappa Epsilon gathered in Sigma Mu Sigma last year, adding a chapter at George Washington. In the fall Pi Kappa Phi absorbed Beta Psi, thereby adding a chapter at Armour and reviving a chapter at Illinois. Recently Phi Mu Delta absorbed Delta Alpha Pi, which had been founded in 1919 at Ohio Wesleyan. The Ohio State chapters of the two fraternities merged, and a new chapter of Phi Mu Delta came into being at New York University. The Phi Mu Delta Triangle did not indicate what would become of the Delta Alpha Pi chapter at Purdue. Delta Alpha Pi was also once represented at Ohio Wesleyan, Butler, and Illinois . . . . . Another merger is engaging the attention of Tau Kappa Epsilon. The January number of The Teke said in part: "We installed one chapter last year, being one of the few fraternities to do so (in fact our depression record of new chapters exceeds that of all other fraternities save one). We expect to install another chapter late this spring, perhaps two. Another merger is looming over the horizon which may set the fraternity world to wondering at the power that is TKE."

James Anderson Hawes, 64 years old, a member of an old New England family and for more than 20 years general secretary of Delta Kappa Epsilon, died February 28 at Mt. Kisco, New York, after an illness of several months. Initiated by the mother chapter of DKE at Yale, Mr. Hawes was elected general secretary of the fraternity in 1910 and soon thereafter gave up his law practice, in which he had engaged for years in New York, to give his entire time to his fraternity. The New York Herald-Tribune report said that he performed the double duties of fraternity treasurer and general executive officer for a number of years, that in recent years he served as historian of the fraternity and secretary of the council, that he edited the fraternity's Quarterly from 1913 to 1925, and that he was secretary of the Winthrop Trust Association, which maintained the Yale chapter house. He was once a member of the executive committee of the National Interfraternity Conference. Quoting from the Herald-Tribune:

"During the world war Mr. Hawes was in charge of the DKE auxiliary activities in Europe. The fraternity organized and equipped an ambulance unit, established clubhouses for troops in London and Paris, and coöperated with the Red Cross, Salvation Army, and other war auxiliaries. He was the only U. S. citizen present at the burial of Quentin Roosevelt. . . . He wrote for college and educational periodicals, and in 1929 published a volume on American university life, Twenty Years among the Twenty-year-olds. In it he defended the American educational system and the younger generation of students against their critics."

Much attention was drawn to the chapter officers' school conducted last year by Sigma Alpha Epsilon at its headquarters in Evanston, Illinois. Some other societies have planned schools, some on a national basis and some on a district basis. In the meantime some universities have attacked the chapter-officer efficiency problem through local conferences. Rutgers is arranging a seminar, concerning which we have obtained information from the editors' good friend, J. Harold Johnston. He was once an editor himself. To quote in part from a release issued by the university news service:

"The seminar will enable the officers of the 21 chapter houses to discuss mutual problems and progressive programs already adopted by some of the fraternities. Administrative officials will participate in the Seminar in an advisory capacity. . . . . The first meeting is tentatively arranged for April 1, when President Robert C. Clothier will meet with the heads of the fraternities to discuss the responsibilities of chapter presidents and the aims and purposes of the college fraternity. At the same time Comptroller Albert S. Johnson will meet with the treasurers and stewards of the fraternities to consider problems of financial administration. Scholarship chairmen will meet with other college administrators to discuss means of encouraging and aiding scholarship in the chapter houses. Problems of freshman training, vocational guidance, and social education will be considered at a meeting of the social chairmen . . . . . Although participation in the Seminar is optional, the fraternities have endorsed the move unanimously."

Brown University's oldest fraternity chapter, that of Alpha Delta Phi, is making arrangements to celebrate its centennial. The chapter was established in 1836, initiated only upperclassmen for a time, became inactive in 1841 because other fraternities had initiated the most desirable men as underclassmen, and was revived in 1851.

Recent charter suspensions announced by fraternity magazines were: Alpha Gamma Rho at Georgia; Sigma Alpha Epsilon at Chicago; Lambda Chi Alpha at Chicago and Carnegie. Others announced recently at Chicago include Tau Kappa Epsilon this year; Sigma Nu, Delta Tau Delta, and Phi Pi Phi last year; Delta Sigma Phi several years ago. Apparently only a few fraternities are scheduled to survive at this institution.

An Associated Press dispatch from Decatur, Illinois, under date of March 11 said in part: "An epicurean jury, assembled to determine the qualities of crow meat at a banquet table, returned a favorable verdict today. The diners ascertained crow meat was dark, fine grained, reasonably tender with a 'gamey taste', but not too strong. One hundred persons were invited to the feast by the Milliken chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon."

Recent newspaper dispatches mention the abolition of "hell week" by the fraternities at three institutions, Washington and Lee, Lehigh, and Illinois. Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Phi Epsilon Pi took the lead at W. & L.

At its regular weekly meeting on Monday, March 9, 1936, the Council of Administration of Pennsylvania State College approved the following statement of policy:

"The Council of Administration has noted with great satisfaction the voluntary action of several social fraternity chapters in abandoning objectionable initiation practices. There is no doubt in the minds of the members of the Council as to the injurious effects of many of these current practices. The Council is convinced that concerted action is now advisable to make certain the immediate elimination of such practices in initiations conducted by all student organizations of various kinds. A Committee of the Council has been directed to confer with student government officers as to the best and quickest methods of proceding toward this objective."

A student-faculty committee is now making a study of the methods of procedure which would likely produce the quickest and most effective abandonment of objectionable initiation activities. It is hoped that the necessary action may be taken with the coöperation of the fraternities rather than by summary Council action.

A drastic step was taken at the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute when the Institute changed its policy of frowning on all extra-curricular activities. One of the outstanding developments is the adoption of a blanket tax. This tax will cover an as yet undetermined number of items, and will be collected at the time of payment of tuition. Thus a student will be permitted to attend many functions without digging into his jeans for each admission fee. As the authorities said in proposing the new plan: "The present situation is one of continued expense to the student, but you all know who pays the tuition."

The Regents of George Washington University were confronted with an embarrassing situation recently, when the District of Columbia fire inspectors condemned for use nineteen of the University's twenty-two buildings. These buildings were mainly antique residences, many of them dating back to Revolutionary times, which had been taken over by the University some twenty-five years ago. They provided very unusual classrooms and administrative offices with beautiful mantelpieces, Colonial doorways, and graceful staircases down which the co-eds trudged in a manner scantly reminiscent of the belles of Federal days.

The fire inspectors, not impressed by venerable architecture, said that the buildings could not be used as classrooms unless certain very sweeping improvements were made in the way of fire doors, fireproof stairways, and similar precautions.

This has perhaps proved to be the best thing that could have happened to the University. The Regents decided to rush work at once on the building program which had been on paper and in the wishing stage for some time. The first to go up is a gleaming Science Building in modern architecture.

"The erection of the new Science Building is only the beginning of the building dream program we have for George Washington", said President Cloyd Heck Marvin.

Other halls of instruction which will follow will be of similar modern architecture adapted to modern municipal life. Residence halls, such as the Women's Hall which is now being erected through the gift of Mrs. Henry A. Strong, will be in the Georgian colonial tradition, which lends itself to housing and to the traditions of living in the national capital.

J. T. Atkinson was recently initiated into T. U. O. Adelphos Atkinson is a member of the Glee Club and is studying veterinary medicine.

Pledge Brother Milton Hill, '38, of Memphis, Tennessee, is back in school again. During the past summer and semester he has been working with a construction concern, receiving some excellent practical experience.

We have a number of new pledges: Charles Clemons, '39, Birmingham, Alabama; J. H. Coleman, '39, Gadsden, Alabama; B. K. Hollis, '39, Winfield, Alabama; J. C. Holmes, '39, Joppa, Alabama; H. C. Jackson, '38, Columbus, Georgia; H. Jefferies, '39; Demopolis, Alabama; G. R. Graff, '39, Montgomery, Alabama; M. B. E. Hill, '38; Memphis, Tennessee; A. W. Cooper, '39, Montevallo, Alabama.

Theta Beta
Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute

At the recent election of officers the following men were chosen to fill the chapter offices: Master, Fred R. Hock; Marshal, Elbert J. Minarcik; Recorder, Robert C. Cox; Herald and Scribe, Carl A. Krohne; Chaplain, John F. Bonner; Inner Guard, Wayne Dowst; and Outer guard, Richard Edwards.

Theta Beta held a dance on the twenty-ninth of February, which was conceded by all to be one of the best that the chapter has ever attempted. We had nothing but the radios and the victrola, but the party was such a success, and so many outsiders attended, that it has been chosen as the event of the month. The fact that it was the twenty-ninth did not matter one bit, and there have been no emotional upsets as a result.

Since the last issue of the OMEGAN, we have purchased a new suite of furniture, several sets of andirons and fire screens, some new lamps, a new hall table, and a number of smoking stands.

The members of the chapter are all looking forward to the annual Founders' Day banquet. This banquet will take place on March 9, 1936. The same night will see the Post-Soiree dance. On the following morning we shall have an initiation of alumni members into T. U. O.

Theta Beta is proud to announce the initiation of four men. These men are John Boniface, Amess Claringbold, Bernard Anderson, and Peter Montfort, all of the class of 1939. We have still three sophomore pledges and four freshmen pledges. These men will be initiated in the near future.
